

FPKG screenshot + a11y pass

Run 20260504T032444Z · 40 captures · base <https://fpkg.fly.dev/>

One page per (route × viewport × colour-scheme) capture follows. Each page shows the rendered screenshot above a small inventory: URL, document title, h1 set, alt-text count and any non-decorative alt strings. Sidecar JSON + raw accessibility-tree snapshots live next to this PDF in meta/ and a11y/.

Generated by `scripts/site-screenshots.mjs` against the live demo. Reproduce with the same script + the `FPKG_PASSWORD` env var.

What this is

A small navigator over the UK Parliament APIs — Members, Hansard, and the live annunciator (which says who is currently speaking in each chamber). Click anything to follow the link to its detail page; the goal is to walk the graph rather than to present curated views.

Data flows through a small caching proxy that sits between this page and the `parliament.uk` APIs (which do not allow direct browser access). TTLs are tuned per-endpoint based on what each API advertises and how the underlying data actually changes.

About

What this is

A small navigator over the UK Parliament APIs — Members, Hansard, and the live annunciator (which says who is currently speaking in each chamber). Click anything to follow the link to its detail page; the goal is to walk the graph rather than to present curated views.

Data flows through a small caching proxy that sits between this page and the `parliament.uk` APIs (which do not allow direct browser access). TTLs are tuned per-endpoint based on what each API advertises and how the underlying data actually changes.
